To the PUBLIC, New-York, Oct. 16, 1766.

IT is now upwards of six Years that I have published a weekly News Paper, under the Title of the New-York Gazette or Weekly Post-Boy, which I have the Pleasure to think has been generally acceptable, and publicly useful: But having now Occasion to alter the Title of my Paper, I hope for the same favourable Reception of the New-York JOURNAL or GENERAL ADVERTISER; that my Paper met with under the former Title; since it will be conducted with the same Spirit, and to the same Ends,—the Suppression of Evil, and the Promotion of public and private Happiness. The Reasons of altering my Title are these, 1st, for the Sake of Distinction, as I am inform'd Mr. PARKER intends to publish a Paper under the former Title; and 2d, because, as he formerly publish'd a Paper under that Title, I would not avail myself of any Advantages from a Name originally assumed by him. The Number, for the Sake of more easily settling with my Customers, will run regularly on from my last Week's Paper. Perhaps, when Opportunity permits, I shall procure a Cut for the Head of my Paper, till which Time, it will be published in its present Form.

JOHN HOLT.

Receiver General's Office, in Wall-Street.

WHEREAS the following grants or patents for land within this colony, are in arrears three years and more, and in the respective fums herein after mentioned, for quit rents due to his Majesty for the same respectively; to the last day of payment, for the same grants respectively, preceding this notice, so far as the same does appear, from the accounts of his Majesty's quit rents in the custody of his Majesty's receiver general; that is to say, CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 3.

ON Sunday the 26th past, the Great Officers of State went in a Body to the Seraglio to wait upon the Grand Seigneur's Son, clothed him in a particular Pellice, and conducted him to a Kiosk, where the Grand Seigneur received him. He kissed his Father's Hand; and his Masters, who are to have the Education of him, were presented at the same Time to the Grand Seigneur, and appointed to take him under their Care for his Education.

Naples, Nov. 4. It is reported, that the Marquis de Squilace is going to return to Spain; but the most sensible people do not believe it.

Nov. 11. The report still prevails, that the Marquis de Squilace is going to return to Spain; his Catholick Majesty being, it is said, convinced of the falsity of the accusations laid against that Nobleman by his enemies, whom his Majesty is therefore determined to punish according to their deserts, and to reinstate the above Minister in his former dignities.

Nov. 15. The day before yesterday Lord Holland, and several other English persons of distinction, arrived here from Marielles on board the Eolus frigate of 32 guns.

Ratisbon, Nov. 17. They write from Vienna, that Orders have been given to make all the Regiments of the Imperial Troops complete by the beginning of May next; and that the States of the Hereditary Countries have engaged to furnish 14,000, Recruits before that Time.

WE hear that certain doctrines, not long since broached, with regard to the law of Parliament not being bound by the law of Westminster-Hall, have lately received a proper discountenance in another place, where the friends to this happy institution seem to be unanimous.

An account of an unknown Lady, from the Annals of George I. (Year the Sixth)

ON Wednesday the 9th of March, 1719, died at her lodgings in St. James's, a lady of whom the following account was published. In her trunk was found a memorandum, "that she had left with her woman a letter directed to John Ward, of Hackney, Esq. The letter enclosed some papers relating to her affairs; and in case of her death, it is by the superscription directed to be opened in her maid's presence."

The lady sent to Mr. Ward, some hours before her death; but he had no other satisfaction from her, but that her woman would deliver him a letter, if she died: But as the lady never had any servant with her, nor any person being ever seen at her lodgings, Mr. Ward desired, that the person who had such letter, would signify the same to him. She has said her maid had lived with her, from eleven years of age, and was a just and faithful servant; and near two years ago, she had sent for her to an house in Westminster, and gave her a curiosity she had, to be preserved in spirits.

Some short time ago, it is said, this lady carried out of her lodgings a small box, the key whereof is now in Mr. Ward's possession, with several very rich and valuable jewels, &c. and after she had lodged these with some friend, she declared she was then easy in her mind, and not afraid of being robbed: But nevertheless going out of town, for two or three days, she ordered the maid to be careful of her trunks. The night she returned she fell sick, and died a few days after.

She was heard to say, she had been lately at a masquerade, where she had an opportunity of much conversation with a very great man. She lately visited some friends, and appeared in black velvet; and said she was enquired after by some there present, who were not personally acquainted with her. She said, that in the latter end of Queen Anne's reign, she frequently visited the court; but since her Majesty died, she had been in obscure lodgings without a servant, and a few days before her death declared, that when once her private affairs were settled, under the conduct of her counsel in the Temple, (which was now near a conclusion) she might be said to have overcome such a scene of troubles, as no woman before her had ever gone through. It is supposed she had different lodgings.

She has said, that she was the daughter of a nobleman deceased; and that the title was extinct, by the death of her brother unmarried; that her uncle is now a nobleman of great virtue, justice, and honour, and always excused her absence, by saying she was in the country. She said, he knew the cause of her retirement. This she seldom mentioned; but when she did, it was with great modesty, and without any apparent view of gain to herself. When in private and alone, she was generally in tears; and would say, "her servants the less, lived happy to what she did."

Since her death, on enquiry at several lodgings, where she has been, and from the acquaintance Mr. Ward had with her, she may be justly entitled to the following character.

She had always plenty of money, and managed it frugally, but with great generosity. She was just, charitable, bountiful, merciful, and happy beyond conception, in expressing her own sentiments, of those virtues. Her whole conversation shewed the finest education, and that she had been in foreign courts, the languages of which, she spoke with ease and elegance; and her observations proved her superior understanding, and acquaintance with persons of the first rank. Her person was of the middle size, with dark brown hair, as fine as silk, a rising forehead, full light grey eyes, with a peculiar sharpness in them; a round, fair, and very handsome face, with as fine a hand and arm as could possibly be seen: She had and wore at several times, (beside those mentioned before) a great variety of jewels of exquisite beauty, and immense value, which she said she had left with a friend.

This Lady came in a London hired coach and six, from Mansfield, in Nottinghamshire, in the year 1714, about the time of the late Queen's death; and was attended there several times with a coach and six, before she left the country.

Observations on a STONE that has the property of changing Colour in certain Circumstances, as the Cameleon, called the mineral Polypus, by Andrew Crosseus, Secretary and Aulic Physician to the Court of Poland Consul of MARIENBURG, &c. From the Ephemerides of the Curious.

BEING at Posenia, Luc hainz, also called Zattorki, a famous lapidary, made me a present, among other curiosities of a stone which has not yet any name assigned it, and which seems to me to be a proof of the existence of a formal light in nature; but of this I have no intention to speak here at present. He had three of those stones one of which was still in its mine, and is a kind of flint we call Quarz. He gave me the smallest, of the form and bigness of a large pea, and all over of an ash colour. What I found wonderful in this stone is, that though it was opaque, and had none of its parts transparent, after it had been put in water, it did not lie there six minutes, when it began to appear brilliant about the edges, and to communicate to the water a sort of luminous shadow indeed, but of a yellow amber colour, in a short space of time; it afterwards passed from yellow to an amethyst colour to black, white, and to a cloudy colour, and as it were smoky. This stone, in fine, perfectly opaque, out of the water, appeared in it quite brilliant, intirely transparent, and of a fine yellow amber colour. Taken out of the water, it resumed its former state of opacity, after being coloured successively, and in a retrograde order, with the same tints it had before taken in the water.

Those experiments were made at Thorn in Prussia, in presence and at the house of Mr. John Neunachbar, the most ancient Pastor of the churches of that city; where were also Dr. Segerus, Physician to the King of Poland, and Mr. Samuel Schelgwigius, Professor of Philosophy, and Vice-rector of the college of the same city, who were witnesses of this agreeable spectacle, and on whose testimony I can assure, that this stone was natural and in no wise a production of art, and that it successively made appear all the different colours I have here enumerated.

Q U E B E C, January 26.

Last Monday, between the Hours of Nine and Ten in the Morning, a Person unknown administer'd a Dose of Poison to George M'Govock, the Soldier of the 28th Regiment, upon whose Testimony the Prisoners now in Custody at Montreal for the barbarous Assault committed upon Mr. Thomas Walker, in December 1764, were apprehended. He is now a Prisoner in the Goal of this Town, and gives the following Account of this wicked Attempt: As he was standing near the Window on the lower Floor of the Prison on one Side of the Door thereof, a Man, who stood under the Window, and who had placed himself there unperceived by M'Govock, called to him in a familiar Manner, and asked him how he did, he was afraid he must be very cold and miserable in this hard Season of the Year. M'Govock could not see his Face well, as he stood close under the Wall, neither did he recollect having ever heard his Voice: So he asked him who he was? And in Answer to his Question, he said that he was indeed very cold and miserable in that Place, and wished very much to be out of it. The other replied, that he was an old Acquaintance of his, and that they had drank many a Dram together, and added that he had brought one now with him to comfort him in his present uneasy Situation, which he hoped he would not refuse: M'Govock thanked him, and said he should be glad to accept of it, whereupon the other handed up to him a small Vial of Rum, as he called it, containing about a Gill, through a broken Window-Pane; M'Govock took it and drank it off, and returned the Vial to the Giver, who thereupon immediately turned his Back, without saying a Word more, and walked away. As he went away M'Govock had an Opportunity of observing his Person behind, and says he seemed to be a Man of about 5 Feet 7, or 5 Feet 8 Inches high, with black Hair, dressed in a Quete, and had a brown Snuff-coloured Coat on, and upon the whole seemed to be very decently dressed. Two Hours after he had taken this Dram, he found himself strangely disordered, with several unusual and convulsive Feelings, and particularly with a most racking Pain in his Stomach: This increased continually till it became absolutely intolerable; and at the same Time his Belly swelled to an enormous Size, and was as hard as Marble: Upon which Mr. Mark Young, a Surgeon in the Neighbourhood, was sent for, who immediately declared that he had been poisoned; he accordingly gave him a Vomit, which fortunately came Time enough to give him some Relief, and, it is hoped, will be the Means of saving his Life. He brought up a great Quantity of Matter, in which, from its Colour and general Appearance, Mr. Young was convinced that there was Poison. M'Govock says that the Sentinel upon Guard at the Prison Door, at the Time he took the Draught, was one of the Royal Americans, and adds, that, from his daily Observation of the Diligence of that Regiment, in preventing any Persons from speaking to the Prisoners, or giving them any Thing through the Windows, he is persuaded the Sentinel there on Duty did not observe the Man that spoke to him, but that possibly he might be gone, for the very short Space of Time necessary for this Purpose (which did not require above three Minutes) to the other Side of the Prison. The three Sentinels who were upon Guard there, from the Hours of Six, Eight and Ten, to the Hours of Eight, Ten and Twelve, have been examined, but declare that they saw no Person whatsoever speak to any of the Prisoners through the Windows, nor any Person within Sight of the Prison, answering the above Description. It is hoped no Person will be so unjust to the Public, as to omit any Means in their Power to discover the Villain that has been guilty of this infamous Attempt.

[Want of Room obliges us to leave out a long Letter of Remarks upon the foregoing Account, tending to make it improbable.]

P H I L A D E L P H I A, February 26.

Extract a Letter from London, November 25, 1766.

"In an august assembly, the opposition (that is, those who are out of place) headed by G. G—v—le, found much fault with the great stretch of the royal prerogative, in putting a stop to the exportation of corn, contrary to several express acts of parliament, without calling the parliament together, which they insisted upon might easily be done, at any time, upon a fortnight's notice, instead of which, at the very period when the scarcity of corn appeared to be certain and inevitable, it was prorogued (September 10) for an unusual length of time, 61 days, instead of 40, the common period of prorogations; that if they suffered this to pass unnoticed, future ministers would be tempted to venture on like exertions of the prerogative, on occasions dangerous to the liberty of the subjects, &c. &c. I have not indeed patience, even to repeat all the nonsense that was thrown out by G—, who spoke evidently from a spirit of faction and resentment, and who sets out this session, precisely as he did the last, in a virulent opposition to all the operations of ministry, without reason, sense, or argument. Were I his master, no motive whatever should induce me to take him into my service again, be his abilities (and they are but second rate) what they will.—He was answered very pertinently by S—C—y, on behalf of the ministry, that this exertion of the prerogative, was made for the most salutary and necessary purposes, no less than to prevent a general scarcity; that he owned he was one that advised it; that he knew when he did so, he became answerable to parliament for such advice; that he submitted it to them, whether this was a proper exertion of prerogative, or whether it tended, in the remotest degree, to infringe the liberty of the subject; that the honourable gentleman who spoke last (Mr. G—v—le) must have certainly received some new lights of late, who had himself last year strenuously argued in behalf of general warrants, an exertion of prerogative which most nearly affected the liberty of the subject, and which could not be vindicated by the plea of necessity, as in the present case; that calling the parliament together in the summer season, when many members were very variously and widely dispersed, would, he apprehended, have given too great an alarm to the nation; that there was no necessity of it; and that as to calling them together at any time, at so short a notice as 12 or 14 days, he appealed to the house, whether this would not be a most dangerous precedent, as a minister, by that means, would be able to surprise the house into any pernicious scheme he might be disposed to carry.—He concluded with saying, that the conduct of these gentlemen was uniform enough; for when in place, they wanted to deprive the people of their liberty (referring to general warrants) and now they wanted to deprive them of their food.—Mr. G—v—le then proposed (in my opinion most absurdly) that for the present relief of the poor, they should address his Majesty to administer to their necessities in such manner, as to his royal wisdom should seem meet; assuring him, that they would make good the same out of the first aids granted by parliament.—To this it was objected, that it was impossible to distribute such relief, in a proper manner; that if it were possible, it would be highly improper, as it would seem to allow, there were no means left to relieve them but by a distribution of the publick money, which at best would be very insufficient, and would appear, as if they bribed them to be quiet; that the evil ought to be probed to the bottom, and the real causes of our present situation ought to be explored, and such remedies applied as were more adequate to the necessities of the poor, than any temporary relief could be.—To this G—v—le replied, that he having endeavoured to make our colonies in America contribute to the support of government, they had bribed them to be quiet, by a total repeal of that law; and that it was very strange, they would not do that for the relief of their poor at home, which they did for the Americans, who were well able to bear the tax.—G—v—le, as he well deserved, was totally deserted; for he was but poorly seconded.—You see this is only another wicked effort to, embarrass our councils, and to divert the parliament from the necessary business of the nation.—For my own part, I wish well to the state in general, whoever has the management of our affairs, and therefore I want to see a permanent, able and honest ministry, unmolested with faction, in good earnest set about a thorough enquiry into the real causes of our present distresses and discontents; and every man who attempts to divert the ministry for the time being from doing this, I consider as an enemy to his country.—I should have told you, by the bye, that S—y C—y behaved both with modesty and spirit.—In answer to a charge of Ignorance, that had been thrown out by G—v—le, in the debate about the proclamation for preventing the exportation of corn; he said he pretended not to be very expert in the duties of his office, but that as he acted with the purest intention for the good of his sovereign, and his country, and was conscious of the integrity of his heart, for this reason he thought, he, in some measure, deserved the place he held, tho' he was ready, with cheerfulness, to resign it, whenever his majesty thought proper to fill it with one of greater abilities.—In the other house, Lord T—p—e, I am told, acted much the same part with Mr. G—v—le, and with the same success.

"Upon the whole, I think it may be fairly concluded, that as the opposition have at present so very little to find fault with; as the nation, in general, are quite tired with opposition to men only, without regarding measures; as the state of the nation requires immediate attention; and as the parliament is drawing near its conclusion, the present members will be induced to recommend themselves to their electors, by exerting themselves this session, in doing something for the people.

"One important piece of business will certainly come before them soon, that is, the affairs of the East India company, as it is certainly necessary for the permanent security of our great acquisitions and conquest in that part of the world, that they should be taken more immediately under the protection of the government, and therefore I do not think the company have any thing to apprehend from this enquiry, that can be detrimental to their interest."

person inclining to purchase the same, at private sale, before the 1st. of April, may apply to John Debow, in Stonestreet, New-York, who will agree on reasonable terms, and give an indisputable title. 61-64. JOHN DEBOW.

IT is hoped that the Gentlemen who were pleased to sign the Recommendation in the following Petition, and which was introduced presented to the last General Assembly of this Province, will excuse the Publication of their Names, as they had no other Means to clear ourselves of a scandalous Accusation, which we are informed by Benjamin Fowler, Esq; is brought against us by Col. Frederick Philips, of having the Names of three Gentlemen who never subscribed to the said Recommendation, viz. Doct. Robert Graham, Mr. Stephen Ward, and the said Benjamin Fowler, Esq; one of his Majesty's Justices of the Peace, inserted in the List of Subscribers to the same, which, if so, must have been forged while in our Custody.

As the Inhabitants of this Colony in general, and many others, have received great Benefit by the Erection of the Free-Bridge, which we undertook, at first with as great a Regard to the public Good as our own private Advantage, and as we have hitherto, not only received no Reward for this Service, but have done it at the expense of a very large Sum of our own Property, which we have lain out of many Years, it cannot but be thought extremely hard that it should also bring upon our Characters so cruel and injurious an Aspersions—and we hope that high Regard which every honest Man ought to have for his Character, will sufficiently justify us for taking this Method to clear ours, from so scandalous an Imputation.
JACOB DEYCKMAN, Junr.
JOHN VERMILIE.

To the Honourable the GENERAL ASSEMBLY, for the Province of New-York.

The PETITION of JACOB DEYCKMAN, BENJAMIN PALMER, and JOHN VERMILIE; HUMBLY SHEWETH,

THAT your Petitioners have with great Pains and Labour, erected a Bridge over Harlem River, a little to the Southward of a Place called and known by the Name of King's-Bridge, and that the said Bridge has been, and is now of great Benefit and Utility to the Public; and that for want of proper Support and Assistance, it is likely soon to come to Decay, and the Public again reduced to the Necessity of paying to the Toll-Bridge as formerly: And also that your Petitioners having expended upwards of One Thousand Pounds, in erecting and repairing the same, have received no more than Two Hundred and Eighty Pounds for that Purpose; so that your Petitioners are in Arrearage upwards of Seven Hundred Pounds, as will appear by the Accounts now in the Possession of the House, attested before the Mayor of the City of New-York: Therefore your Petitioners humbly Pray, that the Honourable House would take the Matter of their Petition in Consideration, and grant them such Relief in the Premises, as they in their great Wisdom shall think fit, and your Petitioners shall ever pray, &c.

The above Petition was presented to the General Assembly with a Recommendation, signifying the Truth of the Facts therein mentioned, the great public Benefit of the said Bridge, the Reasonableness of the Petition, &c. and praying that the Petitioners should be allowed such Compensation, Relief and Assistance, as the General Assembly in their Wisdom should think proper. This Recommendation, was subscribed by the following Inhabitants and Gentlemen, and no others, viz.

RUN away the first instant, from the subscriber, a servant man, named Lodwick Abel, a German, about 24 years of age, black straight hair, about 4 feet 4 inches in height; has a large nose, speaks no English, had on when he went away and took with him, a light blue coat and waistcoat, with red lining; sheep-skin breeches; round brass buckles; a wool hat, two coarse white shirts, and mill'd stockings: whoever takes up said servant, and brings him to Mr. Robert Murray, merchant in New-York, shall have two dollars reward and reasonable charges paid;

61-64. JACOB SPEIRA, Gardiner.

For the BENEFIT, of Mr. HULETT,

WILL be held a Concert of vocal and instrumental Musick, at Mr. BUANT's Assembly Room on Tuesday the 31st. Instant.

Tickets to be had of Mr. Hulett, at his House near the Assembly-Room. Price Six Shilling, each.
To begin at Half past Six o'Clock.

TO BE SOLD,

At Public Vendue, at the Merchant's-Coffee-

House, in this City, on Friday the 20th inst.

THE term of thirty six years yet to come, and unexpired, of the lease of three several lots or parcels of land; situate at Corlear's-Hook, about one mile from this city, now in the tenure and occupation of Edward Smith, together with the improvements thereon; consisting of a dwelling house, stable, fowl-house, and other necessaries; the house contains five rooms, four of which have fire places; with a good oven in the kitchen, there is a well in the yard, thirty six feet deep and stoned up all the way, with a new pump; and has always plenty of excellent water in the driest times: The rest of the land is laid out in a spacious garden, which the present possessor has spared no pains to render both agreeable and profitable, in it there is near 300 fruit trees all in bearing order, consisting of apples, pears, plums, peaches, nectarines, apricots, quinces, and English cherries; all of the choicest fruit and in great variety; likewise great plenty of currants gooseberries, raspberries, and English strawberries, of all the different sorts; also eighteen beds of the best Battersea asparagus in full growth for cutting, besides many thousands of young plants fit for transplanting the ensuing season, with a nursery of several thousand young trees, many of them inoculated with the best kinds of fruit; there is also 100 hills of good hops, which may be cultivated to good account with little trouble; likewise a root cellar 25 feet by 11 stoned up all round, also a summer house and alcove: the whole is in good board fence, and is one of the pleasantest situations about the city, as it commands a view of East-River and harbour from Staten-Island almost to Hell-gate; and with a little expense might be made to command the prospect of a great extent of country quite round: It is extremely convenient for a gentleman, or other person who may want to be often in town, as the road to it is now laid out in such a manner that any carriage may go from town thither, and return again with the greatest ease in half an hour, its nearness to the river is of great utility, as thereby manure may be procured at a much easier rate than by land, besides there is plenty of fish to be had in the season, just before the door. For further particulars enquire of JAMES DE LANCEY, Esq; in the Bowry.
New-York, 5th March, 1767. 61-64.

To be sold at Public Vendue, on Friday the Third of April next;

THREE lots of land belonging to the subscriber, living on Staten-Island, within a mile of Watson's-ferry, on the road to Amboy. The first lot contains twenty acres, eight of which are well timbered, and the remaining part arable meadow and pasture land; there are several improvements on the said lot, viz. a framed house, an out-kitchen, and other convenient buildings; also, a neat paled garden, an exceeding fine new barn, and two barracks, one of which is inclosed, and forms a very good stable; there are likewise two orchards of bearing trees. The second and third are fifty acre lots, and join each other; they are partly improved, well timbered, and in good fence.—The said lots are situated on the main road, and are only separated from the first, by a piece of land of about three chains in breadth. The first and second lot will be put up together, with a lot of salt meadow.

Any person inclining to purchase the said lots, before the day of sale, may apply to JEREMIAH STANTON.

A WOMAN with a good breast of milk, who can be well recommended, is willing to take a gentleman's child to nurse in her house: enquire of the printer. 61-64.

THE House fronting the Great-Dock, wherein PETER LOW, now lives; it is well situated for Business: On the Rear of the Lot opposite Major CARY's, is a Store House, with a large Oven, and conveniences for the Baking Business: Inquire of the Widow FRANCES MOORE. 60-63

TO BE SOLD,
A Plantation very well improved, containing 312 acres of of good land, deemed to be some of the best in the parts, well watered, timbered and fenced; lying at a place called Squancom, in the township of Shrewsbury, and the county of Monmouth, New-Jersey; the up lands afford good pasture, as well as grain of all sorts peculiar to the climate; the meadows abound with grass of all the kinds for fodder, and in season may be cut thereon enough to winter one hundred head of cattle, whilst more may be improved to the same advantage; (to this may be added the benefit of thousands of acres of land, and meadows for summer range, which it is likely will not be improved in one century.) On it is a saw mill with two saws, seated on one of the best and most plentiful streams in the province, which never fails in the greatest drought, to which may be easily added, a grist or fulling mill, or both, as there is plenty of water, in a growing part of the country, which increases its inhabitants; lands daily rising in value, and huntsman's toil paid with the best of venison, wild turkeys and other game. It is conveniently seated for a shop-keeper, as there is none within 10 miles to supply a thick settled and growing part of the country. On the same is two tenements, besides a mill house for the sawyer, a good large barn, a bearing young orchard yielding 50 barrels of cyder, from the best of grafted fruit, with a variety of other fruit trees. For further particulars enquire of Doctor Richard Billwell in Middletown, or the Subscriber, living on the premises, by whom a good and indisputable title will be given or made to any purchaser.
OBEDIAH WORTHLEY.

MURRAY and SMITH,

HAVE entered into partnership, for carrying on the business of VINTNERS, and VICTUALLERS, at the Masons-Arms-Tavern, in the Fields, lately kept by said Smith alone, which is now fitted up in a very commodious manner; stocked with the best of wines, and other liquors, as well as necessaries of every kind, for the genteel reception and agreeable entertainment of all such gentlemen who may please to favour them with their commands. As said Murray hath for a long time carried on the same business in the most reputable manner, and had the pleasure to serve the best of company, He with said Smith, will use their utmost endeavours to give general satisfaction, and keep the said house with the same good reputation, as in the time of their predecessor Mr. John Jones.

WE hear that on Tuesday and Wednesday a deputation from the committee of Millers, Mealmen, &c. waited on the principal Nobility and Gentry in the Administration, with a memorial, praying to have the same bounty allowed on flour as no wheat, to the great benefit of the manufactures of this nation; when they were received with that condescension and attention, which this worthy Administration have ever shewed to the manufacturers of Great-Britain.

We hear that the administration, which will soon be altered by a coalition, will be formed on a more probable permanent plan, than has subsisted for many years past : and which will consist of noblemen and gentlemen of the most distinguished rank, fortune, and abilities, in the kingdom; and, to add a lustre and dignity to their measures, we are told, they will be all volunteers, and not accept of any salary or pension, for their services; and that none will be admitted but on those conditions.

Dec. 2. Molt, if not all, of the resignations mention'd in the public papers have been made, as perhaps some more will be; but we are assured, that the pretended offers made of those employments to others, and their rejections of those offers, are impertinent and groundless fallhoods, and of course impositions on the public.

The write from Rochfort, that six regiments of foot had juft arrived there, to embark on board two men of war and feveral transports, for the French fettlement of Domingo.

The Earls of Shelburne and Egmont are to be created Dukes of Ireland, which is the reason that induced the Marquis of Kildare to accept of that dignity, that he might preserve the precedence of his family as premier Duke ; and the rather, as that illustrious house has always enjoyed the precedence of the Irish peerage, he being the 19th Earl of Kildare in a direct succession. His Grace is now premier Duke, Marquis and Earl of Ireland, which is an honour enjoyed by no other peer under the British constitution.

Nine of the unhappy wretches who were confined in Gloucester gaol for riots have received sentence of death. And it was a most lamentable spectacle to hear and see the lamentations and distracted behaviour of their families, who flocked round the Judges carriages when they were leaving the city.

Province of New-Jersey. December 2. 1766.

HEREAS a Law was passed in New-Jersey the 20th of June 1763, appointing Commissioners to run out straight public Roads through said Province, between New-York and Philadelphia, and empowering them to raise a Sum of Money by a public Lottery, not exceeding £. 500, towards defraying the Charge thereof; accordingly a Lottery was thereupon soon after set on Foot, but from the troubled State of Affairs at that Time, occasioned by the Stamp Act, the Proceedings of the said Lottery were delayed; but as it is apprehended that the salutary Purpose might now be effected, the Managers therein appointed have thought fit for that End, to revive the following Scheme of a Lottery, to consist of 2222 Tickets, at a Dollars each; 662 of which are to be fortunate as follows:

Prize of Dollars,	is Dollars,
1 750	750
2 500	500
3 250	250
4 200	200
5 100	300

662 Prizes, 1560 Blanks.

2223 Tickets, at 4 Dollars each, are 8888/3333

From which a Deduction of 15 per Cent. is £. 499 19 0, and is proposed to be drawn on the first Tuesday in April next, at Perth Amboy, or sooner if full: The fortunate Numbers are to be printed in the New-York and Pennsylvania Papers, as soon as possible after the Drawing, which will be directed by John Stevens, James Parker of Perth-Amboy; John Wetherill of the Township of New-Brunswick; Daniel Ellis of Burlington, and John Edwards of Bordentown, who are appointed Managers and Commissioners for the Road leading from the Ferry-house, opposite Perth-Amboy, to Burlington; and John Berrien, of Rocky-hill; Daniel Cox, of Trenton; Azariah Dunham, of New-Brunswick; Ephraim Terrill, and Abraham Clark, jun. of Elizabeth-Town; who are likewise appointed Managers, and Commissioners for the Road leading from Newark and Elizabeth-Town, to Trenton and Borden Town agreeable to said Act; and are to be under Oath for the due and impartial Performance of their Duties.

The shortening and improving the public Roads through this Province, will be a great Advantage to the commercial Interest and general Convenience of the Inhabitants thereof, as well as a very general Advantage to the Neighbouring Provinces, particularly to Pennsylvania and New-York; and as it is the first Thing of the Kind that has been attempted on the Continent, it is not doubted but every public spirited Person in this, as well as the Neighbouring Provinces, will generously contribute to an Undertaking, tending so greatly to the Advantage and Ease of Men of Business and Pleasure; as it is judged the Distance between New York and Philadelphia will be shorten'd 12 or 13 Miles, and the Roads all made more passable and convenient for Travellers in the Winter Season than the Present.

Tickets are to be had of Daniel Ellis of Burlington, Daniel Coxe of Trenton, James Parker of Perth-Ambey, and Abraham Clark, jun. of Elizabeth-Town, and of all the other Managers in Jersey, at their respective Dwellings.

TO BE SOLD, or LET,—A very fine farm, pleasantly situated on a public road, lying in Dutchess-county, and province of New-York, being part of lot No. 10, on the Oblong; containing 230 acres more or less, whereof about 120 is good meadow ground, lying in one body, on the east-side of Croton's-river; 40 acres is cleared, and yielded last year seventy tons of the best English hay; the rest under suitable improvement, will produce a much larger quantity: there is 50 acres of plough land cleared and within fence; the remainder is pasture and woods, the buildings are two dwelling-houses and a large barn all new; there are also 24 acres of wheat in the ground in fence; it lies near the Revd. Mr. Kent's meeting-house, and Simeon Ryder's mills, in a populous country, and good neighbourhood.— Whoever inclines to purchase may apply to Thomas Clarke, at Greenwich, near New-York, or to Most Kent, Esq; near the premises: there is also for sale, a Negro man, a complete farmer, brought up in New-England, aged 24 years, has had the small-pox, is sober, honest, industrious and ingenious; has lived some time with a wheel-wright, and is handy at keeping carriages in repair. Inquire of Thomas Clarke.

STATEN-ISLAND, February 6, 1767.

To the PUBLICK.

THE subscriber intending to remove to New-York, will dispose of the ferry and farm that he now lives on (being on the East end of Staten-Island) by way of publick auction, on Thursday the 19th day of March next: The many conveniences, with the pleasantness of the situation of this place, would take up too much for an advertisement, to point out the whole of them: so shall he content to mention a few of the particulars. In regard to a ferry, it is the best situated on the Island, as the boats can go and come from New-York with most winds, and but one tide to encounter with, which is of great ease to the passengers, and is the reason that it is more frequented than any of the rest of the ferries; it has also a considerable run for carrying passengers to Long-Island, which brings in a handsome yearly income. Most of the shipping that goes out of New-York, anchors just opposite the door, being the anchoring-ground for the watering place, which makes it not only very pleasant, but of considerable advantage to the place, in carrying the passengers and ships crews backwards and forwards to New-York: It also occasions a great run to the house, which is the very sinew of a tavern. The boats that attend this ferry, are often employed to run down to the Hook, with dispatches for vessels that may be there; and the men of war which often lie here, employ them to bring their ship's stores, &c. from New-York. There is an excellent dock for the convenience of the boats; and the best roads on the island are from this place to Amboy, the old and new Blazing-Star, and Elizabeth-Town Point. The ferry and twenty acres of land will be sold by itself: There are also sixty more, with a sufficient quantity of wood land on it, will be sold with the rest or separately, as it may best suit the purchaser. On the twenty acres that belong to the ferry, twenty tons of choice English hay having been cut this season, and as much more may be cut in a short time, with very little expence. There is plenty of pasture, a good barn, stable and two other out houses, all on the above mentioned lot.—The situation of the place is extremely pleasant, the house standing on a rising ground, which commands an agreeable prospect of the city of New-York on one side, and the narrow ocean on the other: The garden that is before the door, is laid out in a pretty taste, and has been lately railed in and painted in the handsomest manner. There is great plenty of fish, and game in the proper seasons to be had at this place. It is a delightful situation for a gentleman, and it has all the conveniency that is requisite for a ship carpenter: It is also well situated for a farmer, the land being rich, well cleared and drained. The whole farm is under good new fence, and great advantage may be made by gardening, being only nine miles from New-York market.

Whoever purchases the whole, will have a great advantage in saving their pasture, as there is a fine out-let and shore for grazing.
Any person inclining to purchase the above premises before the day of sale, may come and view them, and know the conditions of sale, by applying to the Owner,

JOHN WATSON.

At the same time there will be sold, three very good boats, which are now in good repair, and well calculated for the conveniency of the ferry. Also, a genteel covered wagon, a curricule, with a good pair of Horses, a fine breeding mare, with other horses, cows, hogs, and many other articles too tedious to mention.

A likely negro fellow, can be well recommended for a coachman and hostler; and a sober honest young woman, can be recommended as a good cook, to be sold at private sale. 58 63.

JOYCE's Great Wound BALSAM.

Which by it's surprising Efficacy, cures all Manner of Wounds, if curable; at the first Dressing sometimes, if recent and not dangerous; if nervous and seemingly dangerous, three, four, or six Dressings puts the Wound out of Danger, and quickly heals.—The Method of using this Balsam, is, to wash the Wound with warm Wine or Spirits, then pour some Balsam into it, and close the Lips by Bandage, stitch, or otherwise; a Pledget of Lint, over the Wound, dip in the Balsam, a Compress, and so bound up.

IT is excellent in the Cure of the most inveterate Ulcers, and Fistulas, altho' of long standing, by anointing and injecting into the Canals and Sinus: It softens and takes away almost all Manner of Swellings, and Bruises, and scatters coagulated Blood.—Those that are affected with swelled Jaws, arising from the Tooth-Ach, Heat and Inflammation of the Gums, are immediately cured by anointing the Part with warm Balsam, and laying a Flannel Cloth over.—For a Cough or Cold, it is a great Corrector, by taking twenty or thirty Drops, mixed with a Tea Spoon full of Sperma Ceti, in a Morning, and at Night, going to Bed.—With many other Virtues too tedious to mention.—
